fun decorating

electric orange

BY BENJAMIN MOORE

"Babies spend a lot of time staring at the ceiling, so my husband and I decided to give our newborn something to look at with these 10-inch-wide stripes. We picked gender-neutral orange before we knew we were having a boy."

—Kari McIntosh Dawdy, Kari McIntosh Design, San Mateo, CA

peony

BY BENJAMIN MOORE

"It took about a week to convince my clients to try this posh hot pink in their living room, but they loved it the minute it hit the walls. Now this jewel box of a room feels larger and leaves an impression it couldn't have with a safer color."

—Noz Nozawa, Noz Design, San Francisco, CA

down pipe

BY FARROW & BALL

"Before, the walls in this home office were white. Boring! I've used this charcoal gray in the past, and it's always a slam dunk. It brings so much style to the furniture."

—Sally Wheat, Sally Wheat Interiors, Houston, TX
